“ All human behaviour is normal, it's just not always that useful!
Michelle Loch

Helping leaders to double their impact and influence, in half the time!

IMAGINE ... that, rather than reacting to the human behaviour around them, your leaders could diagnose that behaviour and prescribe more useful strategies to engage, motivate, influence and develop potential in their teams, and in themselves!

We have learned more about the human brain in the last 30 years than in all of history, and this new science is providing us with new and more useful ways to think about how leaders need to think, behave and lead to manage the complex people leadership issues they now face.

As an accomplished 'neuro-translator', and with extensive corporate leadership experience Michelle is well-placed to inspire your delegates to 'rewire' the way they lead themselves and others.

She is the creator of the LEADING WITH SUBSTANCE methodology – a brain-based leadership framework that supports organisations to develop Cultures of Substance – cultures that work for humans - by creating humans that are better at 'being human', that is, they understand how the human brain works and they have strategies that work WITH it rather than against it!

You will love what Michelle can deliver for your audience and how they can apply her practical tips and tricks to both their personal and professional lives.
